

y Thesaurus

Starting Points

Word families

Subscriptions

s My Account

One-month ticket expires on 03.16.2024

Search

or use Advanced Search

?

whole word • part of the word or phrase

Search results Search phrase: marriage

□ Plays 131 result(s). alternate result(s)

	It(s). alternate		Original Taut
Play All's Well That Ends Well	Key Line AW I.iii.38	Modern Text Thy marriage, sooner than thy wickedness.	Original Text Thy marriage sooner then thy wickednesse.
All's Well That Ends Well	AW I.iii.51	no fear in marriage ; for young Charbon the puritan and	no feare in marriage , for yong Charbon the Puritan, and
All's Well That Ends Well All's Well That Ends	AW I.iii.61 AW V.iii.70	Your marriage comes by destiny, To see our widower's second	your marriage comes by destinie, To see our widdowers second marriage day:
Well All's Well That Ends Well	AW V.iii.254	marriage-day. Do you know he promised me marriage?	Do you know he promist me marriage ?
All's Well That Ends Well	AW V.iii.263	marriage and things which would derive me ill will to	marriage , and things which would deriue mee ill will to
Antony and Cleopatra Antony and Cleopatra	AC II.ii.136 AC II.iii.40	That which none else can utter. By this marriage And though I make this marriage for	That which none else can vtter. By this marriage , And though I make this marriage for my peace,
Antony and Cleopatra	AC II.vi.117	my peace, the marriage than the love of the parties.	the Marriage , then the loue of the parties.
As You Like It As You Like It	AYL III.ii.305	between the contract of her marriage and the day it is	between the contract of her marriage , and the day it is
As You Like It	AYL III.iii.64 AYL III.iii.77	Truly, she must be given, or the marriage is and have a good priest that can tell	Truly she must be giuen, or the marriage is and haue a good Priest that can tel you what
As You Like It	AYL V.ii.36	you what marriage degrees have they made a pair of stairs to marriage	marriage degrees, haue they made a paire of staires to marriage ,
As You Like It As You Like It	AYL V.ii.38 AYL V.iv.55	before marriage . They are in the very wrath of love and to swear and to forswear, according	before marriage ; they are in the verie wrath of loue, and to forsweare, according as
The Comedy of Errors	CE II.i.27	as marriage Not this, but troubles of the marriage -bed.	mariage Not this, but troubles of the marriage bed.
The Comedy of Errors The Comedy of Errors	CE III.ii.95 CE III.ii.97	•	is she a wondrous fat marriage . marriage ?
The Comedy of Errors	CE IV.iv.153	marriage of me, I could find in my heart to stay here	mariage of me, I could finde in my heart to stay heere
Coriolanus Cymbeline	Cor I.i.192 Cym V.iv.58	Conjectural marriage s, making parties strong With marriage wherefore was he	Coniecturall Marriage s, making parties strong, With Marriage wherefore was he mockt
Hamlet	Ham I.ii.12	mocked With mirth in funeral and with dirge in marriage ,	With mirth in Funerall, and with Dirge in Marriage ,
Hamlet Hamlet	Ham I.ii.181 Ham I.v.50	Did coldly furnish forth the marriage tables.	Did coldly furnish forth the Marriage Tables; I made to her in Marriage ; and to decline
Hamlet	Ham II.ii.57	decline His father's death and our o'erhasty marriage.	His Fathers death, and our o're-hasty Marriage .
Hamlet	Ham III.i.148	mad. I say we will have no more marriage . Those that	mad. I say, we will haue no more Marriage s. Those that
Hamlet Hamlet	Ham III.ii.192 Ham III.iv.45	The instances that second marriage move And sets a blister there; makes	The instances that second Marriage moue, And makes a blister there. Makes marriage
Henry V	H5 I.ii.84	marriage vows By the which marriage the line of Charles the Great	vowes By the which Marriage , the Lyne of Charles the Great
Henry V Henry V	H5 V.ii.351 H5 V.ii.356	Which troubles oft the bed of blessed	God, the best maker of all Marriage s, Which troubles oft the Bed of blessed Marriage ,
Henry V	H5 V.ii.362	marriage , Prepare we for our marriage ; on which day,	Prepare we for our Marriage : on which day,
Henry VI Part 1 Henry VI Part 1	1H6 V.i.20 1H6 V.i.21	In marriage , with a large and sumptuous dowry. Marriage , uncle? Alas, my years are	In marriage , with a large and sumptuous Dowrie. Marriage Vnckle? Alas my yeares are yong:
Henry VI Part 1	1H6 V.iii.168	young, And make this marriage to be solemnized.	And make this marriage to be solemniz'd:
Henry VI Part 1 Henry VI Part 2	1H6 V.v.55 2H6 I.i.97	Marriage is a matter of more worth Fatal this marriage , cancelling your	Marriage is a matter of more worth, Fatall this Marriage , cancelling your Fame,
Henry VI Part 2	2H6 I.i.151	fame, Had Henry got an empire by his marriage ,	Had Henrie got an Empire by his marriage ,
Henry VI Part 3	3H6 II.vi.98 3H6 III iii 57	To effect this marriage , so it please my lord.	To effect this marriage , so it please my Lord.
Henry VI Part 3 Henry VI Part 3	3H6 III.iii.57 3H6 III.iii.74	To England's King in lawful marriage . Look, therefore, Lewis, that by this league and marriage	To Englands King, in lawfull Marriage . Looke therefore Lewis, that by this League and Mariage
Henry VI Part 3 Henry VI Part 3	3H6 III.iii.255 3H6 III.iii.258	For mocking marriage with a dame of France. Matter of marriage was the charge	For mocking Marriage with a Dame of France. Matter of Marriage was the charge he gaue me,
Henry VI Part 3 Henry VI Part 3	3H6 III.III.258 3H6 IV.i.2	he gave me, Of this new marriage with the Lady Grey?	Of this new Marriage with the Lady Gray?
Henry VI Part 3	3H6 IV.i.18	Yet hasty marriage seldom proveth well.	Yet hastie Marriage seldome proueth well.
Henry VI Part 3 Henry VI Part 3	3H6 IV.i.31 3H6 IV.i.33	About the marriage of the Lady Bona. Is now dishonoured by this new	about the Marriage / Of the Lady Bona. Is now dis-honored by this new Marriage .
Henry VI Part 3	3H6 IV.i.38	iGainst foreign storms than any home-bred marriage .	'Gainst forraine stormes, then any home-bred Marriage.
Henry VI Part 3 Henry VI Part 3	3H6 IV.i.97 3H6 IV.i.121	But what said Lady Bona to my marriage ?	But what said Lady Bona to my Marriage ? That though I want a Kingdome, yet in Marriage
Henry VIII	H8 II.ii.15	It seems the marriage with his brother's wife	It seemes the Marriage with his Brothers Wife
Henry VIII	H8 II.ii.27		Feares, and despaires, and all these for his Marriage .
Henry VIII Henry VIII	H8 II.iv.53 H8 II.iv.174	Who deemed our marriage lawful. Wherefore I humbly A marriage 'twixt the Duke of	Who deem'd our Marriage lawful. Wherefore I humbly And Marriage 'twixt the Duke of Orleance, and
Henry VIII	H8 II.iv.180	Orleans and Respecting this our marriage with the dowager,	Respecting this our Marriage with the Dowager,
Henry VIII	H8 II.iv.226	Prove but our marriage lawful, by my life	Proue but our Marriage lawfull, by my Life
Henry VIII Henry VIII	H8 III.ii.68 H8 IV.i.33	•	His second Marriage shall be publishd, and And the late Marriage made of none effect:
Julius Caesar	JC II.i.280	effect; Within the bond of marriage , tell me, Brutus,	Within the Bond of Marriage , tell me Brutus,
King Edward III King John	E3 II.i.261 KJ II.i.539	In violating marriage ' sacred law The rites of marriage shall be solemnized.	In violating mariage secred law, The rights of marriage shallbe solemniz'd.
King John	KJ III.i.245	Unswear faith sworn, and on the marriage -bed	Vn-sweare faith sworne, and on the marriage bed
King John Love's Labour's Lost	KJ V.ii.93 LLL II.i.40	I, by the honour of my marriage -bed, I know him, madam. At a marriage feast	l (by the honour of my marriage bed) l know him Madame at a marriage feast,
Measure for Measure	MM III.i.223	and sinew of her fortune, her marriage dowry; with	and sinew of her fortune, her marriage dowry: with
Measure for Measure Measure for Measure	MM III.ii.192 MM V.i.215	marriage . His child is a year and a quarter old, come And five years since there was some	marriage : his Childe is a yeere and a quarter olde come And fiue yeres since there was some speech of
Measure for Measure	MM V.i.417	speech of marriage I thought your marriage fit; else imputation,	marriage I thought your marriage fit: else Imputation,
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice		In way of marriage . Therefore be advised. To woo a maid in way of marriage ;	In way of marriage , therefore be aduis'd. To wooe a maide in way of marriage :
The merchant of venice		ne wee a mala in way of marriage ,	To wood a malae in way of manage .
The Merchant of Venice		And summon him to marriage . Now he goes,	And summon him to marriage . Now he goes
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice The Merry Wives of		he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage. a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage .	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage. a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anne concerning your marriage.
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage . ward of her purity, her reputation,	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage. a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anne concerning your marriage. Master in the way of Marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.iv.83	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage .	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage. a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anne concerning your marriage. Master in the way of Marriage.
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.iv.83 MW II.ii.238 MW V.v.222 MA I.iii.41	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage . ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage -vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage .	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage. a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anne concerning your marriage. Master in the way of Marriage. Master in the way of Marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her. giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado About	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.iv.83 MW II.iv.238 MW V.v.222	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage . ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage -vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage . will obtained; name the day of marriage , and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this
The Merchant of Venice The Merchant of Venice The Merry Wives of Windsor The Merry Wives of Windsor Much Ado About Nothing Much Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.iv.83 MW II.ii.238 MW V.v.222 MA I.iii.41 MA II.i.276	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage . ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage -vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage . will obtained; name the day of marriage , and God give	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.iv.83 MW II.ii.238 MW V.v.222 MA II.ii.41 MA II.i.276 MA II.ii.7	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage . ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage -vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage . will obtained; name the day of marriage , and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage ?	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.i.238 MW I.i.238 MW V.v.222 MA I.iii.41 MA II.ii.7 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage . a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage . master in the way of marriage . ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage -vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage . will obtained; name the day of marriage , and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage ? marriage ? I will presently go learn their day of marriage .	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage. a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anne concerning your marriage. Master in the way of Marriage. Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her. giue you intelligence of an intended marriage. Will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue euenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage? marriage?
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.i.238 MW I.i.238 MW V.v.222 MA II.ii.41 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.7 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage. a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage. master in the way of marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage. will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? marriage? I will presently go learn their day of marriage. on me, because I have railed so long against marriage; I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coat	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage:I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coat
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.iv.83 MW I.iv.83 MW I.iv.222 MA II.ii.41 MA II.ii.41 MA II.ii.276 MA II.ii.7 MA II.ii.318 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage. a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage. master in the way of marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? marriage? I will presently go learn their day of marriage. on me, because I have railed so long against marriage; I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coat marriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed! not marriage honourable in a	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is unely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MA I.i.i.205 MA II.i.276 MA II.i.101 MA II.i.101 MA II.i.101 MA III.i.101 MA III.101 MA IIII.101	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage. a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage. master in the way of marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage. will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? I will presently go learn their day of marriage. on me, because I have railed so long against marriage; I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coat marriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed! not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lord	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought ypon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haue
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.i.205 MW I.i.238 MW I.i.238 MW I.i.238 MA II.ii.41 MA II.ii.276 MA II.ii.230 MA II.ii.318 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.330 MA II.ii.330 MA II.ii.330 MA III.ii.330	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lord	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MW I.i.205 MW I.i.238 MW I.i.238 MW I.i.238 MA II.ii.41 MA II.ii.276 MA II.ii.7 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.330 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.51 MA II.ii.330 MA III.ii.6 MA III.ii.89 MA III.ii.89 MA III.ii.230 MA III.ii.333	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?form of marriage, and you shall recount their particular	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage,will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?narriagel will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particular
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About Nothing	MV III.ii.212 MW I.i.52 MW I.i.205 MA I.i.1.205 MA II.1.206 MA II.1.1.206 MA II.1.1.200 MA II.1.1.200 MA II.1.1.200 MA II.1.1.200 MA II.1.1.200 MA III.1.1.200 MA III.1.1.200 <td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage to opposite to marriage that she</td> <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate,glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage,</td>	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage to opposite to marriage that she	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate,glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage,
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About NothingOthelloOthelloPericlesPericles	MW III.iI.212 MW II.I.212 MW II.I.205 MW II.I.205 MW II.I.205 MW II.I.238 MW II.I.238 MA II.II.238 MA II.II.238 MA II.II.276 MA II.II.276 MA II.II.230 MA II.II.230 MA II.II.230 MA II.II.230 MA III.II.230 MA III.II.230 MA III.II.230 MA III.II.230 MA III.II.30 MA III.II.30 Per II.III.30	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage -So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!In marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage,	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage:I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage in onurable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage,So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About NothingPericlesPericles	MVIII.ii.212 MWI.i.52 MWI.i.205 MAI.i.205 MA.I	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage. a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage. master in the way of marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage. will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? marriage? I will presently go learn their day of marriage. on me, because I have railed so long against marriage; I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coat marriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed! not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lord honourable without marriage? I n the state of honourable marriage - So opposite to marriage that she shunned Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage pleasures playfellow; By Juno, that is queen of marriage. Even ripe for marriage-rite. This	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is urely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage, So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About NothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericles	Image: marge of the set of the s	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage. master in the way of marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage. will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? marriage? I will presently go learn their day of marriage. on me, because I have railed so long against marriage; I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coat marriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed! not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lord honourable without marriage? I think you would have form of marriage, and you shall recount their particular In the state of honourable marriage - So opposite to marriage that she shunned Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage! In marriage pleasures playfellow; By Juno, that is queen of marriage, Of this most pompous marriage- feast.	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?marriageI will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage?I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is urely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage, So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericles </td <td>Image: Image: Image:</td> <td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriageI will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!By Juno, that is queen of marriage- feast.Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage-rite. This maidAbout his marriage, nor my own disgrace,</td> <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yopn her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgrace</td>	Image:	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriageI will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!By Juno, that is queen of marriage- feast.Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage-rite. This maidAbout his marriage, nor my own disgrace,	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yopn her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgrace
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingOthelloOthelloPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericles	Image:	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriageI will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!By Juno, that is queen of marriage- feast.Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage-rite. This maidAbout his marriage, nor my own disgrace,	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue euenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage?I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is unely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage, So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow: By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast: Euen right for marriage sight : this Maid to grace thy marriage-day, lle beautifie.
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRichard IIRichard IIIRichard IIIRichard IIIRichard III	Image: designed setMWI II. i. 212MWI I. i. 205MWI I. i. 205MWI I. i. 203MWI I. i. 203MAI I. i. 201MAI I. I. I. 201MAI I. 20	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage?I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage.form of marriage, nor yous narriage- feast.Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, "twixt my crown and me,His daughter meanly have I matched imarriage.With the sweet silent hours of marriage.With the sweet silent hours of marriage.	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage,will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?narriage.I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage:I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate,glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage:I the state of honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage, 1 thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage,So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, twixt my Crowne, and me,His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage,With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorThe Merry Wives of WindsorMuch Ado About NothingMuch Ado About NothingPericlesPe	MY III.iI.212 MW I.I.52 MW I.I.205 MW I.I.200 MA II.I.200	he goes, Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage. a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anne concerning your marriage. master in the way of marriage. ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow, Which forced marriage would have brought upon her. give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage? marriage. I will presently go learn their day of marriage. on me, because I have railed so long against marriage; I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coat marriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed! not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lord honourable without marriage? I think you would have form of marriage, and you shall recount their particular In the state of honourable marriage shunned Must be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage! In marriage pleasures playfellow; By Juno, that is queen of marriage. Go this most pompous marriage- feast. Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maid To grace thy marriage, nor my own disgrace, A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace, A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace, Must he sweet silent hours of marriage joys; Well, think of marriage now. Younger than you,	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriagea marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giuewill obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueI will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.marriageon mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.marriage surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, int my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Wilt thinke of marriage, send me word to
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRichard IIRichard IIIRomeo and Juliet	MUIII.iI.2132MUII.II.2132MUII.II.205MUII.II.205MUII.II.238MUII.II.238MUII.II.238MUII.II.238MUII.II.238MUII.II.230<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will obtained; name the day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn he state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!In marriage pleasures playfellow;Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage-rite. This maidAbout his marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;Well, think of marriage now. Younger than you,	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriagea marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yop her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage, audit of the purity her reputation and the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueon mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maid to grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage,With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage now, yonger then you
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRichard IIRichard IIIRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet	Mux	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage?uill obtained; name the day of marriage.marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;l do but stay till your marriage be consumate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!nonurabe without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.form of marriage, nor my own disgrace,A bout his marriage, nor my own disgrace,A bout his marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage – 'twixt my crown andHis daughter meanly have I matched in marriage,With the sweet silent hours of marriageMarriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage.Marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage.Marriage joys;With the sweet sile	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is unely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage now, yonger then youThy purpose marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage: when and where, and how,
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRichard IIRichard IIRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet	UnimiMY III.iI.212MW I.I.205MW I.I.205MW I.I.205MW I.I.205MY I.I.201MA I.I.1.201MA I.I	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.warriage.will obtained; name the day of marriage.marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit Ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable marriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage now youn sigrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage nor. Younger than you,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;Well, think of marriage now. Younger than you,When yasy he of our marriage? What of that?	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?1 will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage:glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage?I hun anyage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of marriage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, indrige sight : this Maid to grace thy marriage, indrige sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, indry word disgraceA two-fold Marriage; 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage, With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage now, yonger then youThy purpose marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage: when and where, and how,
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet	Image: def control of the sector of the se	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained; name the day of marriage.warriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a hild his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!nonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Marriage pleasures playfellow;Gran of marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage - 'twixt my crown and me.His daughter meanly have I matched in marriageWith the sweet silent hours of marriageMust bay sho f our marriage?With the sweet silent hours of marriageMust bay sho f our marriage?With the sweet silent hours of marriageMust bay sho f our marriage?Whent, say s	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage wow,Which forced marriage would haue brought opon her.glue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?narriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage is urely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueform of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, nor my owne disgraceHis daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, send me word to morrorw,By holy marriage; when and where, and how,What saies he of our marriage? what of that?To blaze your marriage, reconcile your Friends, Delay this marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage,
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRichard IIRichard IIIRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet	Image: Part of the sector of	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained; name the day of marriage?marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage?l do but stay till your marriage be consumate.gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and abour ill bestowed!not marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage, nor wy own alsgrace,A twofold marriage - 'twixt my crown alsigrace,A twofold marriage - 'twixt my crown and me,His daughter meanly have I matched i marriage, joys;Whent says he of our marriage? What says he of our marriage? What ow of thanz?What says he of our marriage? What and howWhat says he of our marriage? What show our friends,Delay this marriage for a month, a <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yop her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue euenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you ou'd haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage: when and where, and how,What saies he of our marriage? twist of that?To blaze your marriage, for a month, a weeke,</td>	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRichard IIRichard IIRichard IIIRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet	Image: def control of the sector of the se	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained; name the day of marriage.will pesently go learn their day of marriage.namriage.0 nme, because I have railed so long against marriage;1 do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage – surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordbonourable without marriage?I do but stay till your shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!In marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.So opposite to marriage-day, I'll beautify.About his marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own and me.His daughter meanly have I matched in marriage, joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriageMarriage joys;Well, think of marriage, reconcile your friends,Delaze your marriage, nor my own and me.His daughter meanly have I matched in marriage, joys;Well, think of marriage now. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage, nor my own <b< td=""><td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.Amarriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage vow,Wich forced marriage would haue brought Upon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giuewill obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, ast o shew a childe his marriage.not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your LordNonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage: 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage: when and where, and how,Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:By holy marriage: when and where, and how,What saies he of our marriage? what of that?To blaze your marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome,</td></b<>	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.Amarriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage vow,Wich forced marriage would haue brought Upon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giuewill obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.I doe but stay till your marriage be consummate, glosse of your marriage, ast o shew a childe his marriage.not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your LordNonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage: 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage: when and where, and how,Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:By holy marriage: when and where, and how,What saies he of our marriage? what of that?To blaze your marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome,
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNuch Ado AboutNuch Ado AboutNuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet <td>AutoriaAutor</td> <td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;gloss of your marriage as to show a labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage?So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,Wilh the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;Well, think of marriage, nor wy ounger than you,Thy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By holy marriage. When, and where, and howWhat says he of our marriage? What of that?To blaze your marriage he should be dishonoured be word tomorrow,By holy marriage for a month, a uesek this know; and to the marri</td> <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?namriage?namriage?l will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage?on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage,So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of MarriageIIn maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, itwixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, send me word to morrow.By holy marriage; when and where, and how, What saies he of our marriage?With the sweet silent houres of MarriageWith the sweet silent houres of Marriage, marriage.W</td>	AutoriaAutor	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;gloss of your marriage as to show a labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage?So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage-rite. This maidTo grace thy marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,Wilh the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;Well, think of marriage, nor wy ounger than you,Thy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By holy marriage. When, and where, and howWhat says he of our marriage? What of that?To blaze your marriage he should be dishonoured be word tomorrow,By holy marriage for a month, a uesek this know; and to the marri	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?namriage?namriage?l will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage?on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage,So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of MarriageIIn maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, itwixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, send me word to morrow.By holy marriage; when and where, and how, What saies he of our marriage?With the sweet silent houres of MarriageWith the sweet silent houres of Marriage, marriage.W
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingOthelloOthelloPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet <tr< td=""><td>AutoriticAutor</td><td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will obtained; name the day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage?I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!nonurable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!In marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.Of this most pompous marriage- feast.To grace thy marriage-day, I'll beautify.A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys:Well, think of marriage honour Abue I marriage,With the sweet silent hours of marriage,Must be to four marriage.Must be fourth is marriage.Must be toleathe her. O, curse of marriage.Must be toleathe her. O, curse of marriage.M</td><td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giuemarriage?marriage?namriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.no mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.By luno (that is Queene of marriage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Will thinke of marriage, ner omy onger then youThy purpose marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage: when and where, and how,What sales he of our marriage?Matt the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Will this wisedome, hasts our marriage,Mu this wisedome, hasts our marriage,His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage,Marriage, nor my owne disgrace</td></tr<>	AutoriticAutor	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will obtained; name the day of marriage.on me, because I have railed so long against marriage?I do but stay till your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!nonurable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!In marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.Of this most pompous marriage- feast.To grace thy marriage-day, I'll beautify.A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own alisgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys:Well, think of marriage honour Abue I marriage,With the sweet silent hours of marriage,Must be to four marriage.Must be fourth is marriage.Must be toleathe her. O, curse of marriage.Must be toleathe her. O, curse of marriage.M	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giuemarriage?marriage?namriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.no mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.By luno (that is Queene of marriage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Will thinke of marriage, ner omy onger then youThy purpose marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage: when and where, and how,What sales he of our marriage?Matt the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Will this wisedome, hasts our marriage,Mu this wisedome, hasts our marriage,His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage,Marriage, nor my owne disgrace
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet<	AAW1II.3212AW1.3205AW1.3205AW1.3205AW1.323AM1.323AM1.327AM1.32AM2.32AM1.32AM2.32AM2.32AM2.32AM2.32AM3.32	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will pesently go learn their day of marriage.gloss of your marriage as to show a ahild his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?In their particularIn the state of honourable marriage shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of feast.Even ripe for marriage-rite. This maidSo opposite to marriage now. Younger feast.A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,Wilt, thik sof marriage, nor my own disgrace,Wilt, thik sof marriage, nor My ounger than you,Thy purpose marriage, nor My ounger than you,Thy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By holy marriage. When, and where, our friends,Delay this marriage for a month, a week.Must is pusch di their stolen marriage </td <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-wow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?narriage?1 will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his marriage surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of marriage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Will this e of marriage, nor my oyne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?Will this wisedome, hasts our marriageWill this wisedome, hasts our marriageMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of MarriageDi blaze your marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage, when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?Will</td>	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-wow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?narriage?1 will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his marriage surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of marriage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, 'twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Will this e of marriage, nor my oyne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?Will this wisedome, hasts our marriageWill this wisedome, hasts our marriageMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of MarriageDi blaze your marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage, when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?Will
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietPherewThe Taming of the <br< td=""><td>AAW1II.3212AW1.1.52AW1.1.205AW1.1.205AW1.1.238AM1.1.1.21</td><td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress AnneConcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brough upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage.gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage?So opposite to marriage and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage - itwixt my crown adisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage, por my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage, por month, a werd tomorrow,By holy marriage for a month, a wend in howWhat says he of our mar</td><td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-yow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.gilue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueuenty with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.andreige, surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.posse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage fonourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, nal you shal recount their particularform of marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage; when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage, what of that?To blaze your marriage, reconcile your Friends, </td></br<>	AAW1II.3212AW1.1.52AW1.1.205AW1.1.205AW1.1.238AM1.1.1.21	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.a marriage between Master Abraham and Mistress AnneConcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brough upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage.gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage?So opposite to marriage and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage - itwixt my crown adisgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage, nor my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage, por my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage, por month, a werd tomorrow,By holy marriage for a month, a wend in howWhat says he of our mar	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-yow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.gilue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueuenty with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.andreige, surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.posse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage fonourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, nal you shal recount their particularform of marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage; when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage, what of that?To blaze your marriage, reconcile your Friends,
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet<	III<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God give evenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatBoourable without marriage?nonrage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!norriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage feast.So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!Marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.So this most pompous marriage.feast.Even ripe for marriage - 'twixt my crown and marriage, nor my ownA twofold marriage - 'twixt my crown and marriage.Mith the sweet silent hours of marriage.Marriage joys;Well, think of marriage, neon wipowWith the sweet silent hours of marriage.Murriage honourable marriage.Delay this marriage nev. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage, neoncile you rimeitage.Duot his marriage nev. Younger than you,Tho blaze your marr	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yoon her.glue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his nerriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage?I the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage: when and where, and how,What sales he of our marriage?With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, for a month, a weekee,A two-fold Marriage, for a month, a weekee,Ahdi in his wisedome, hasts our marriage,Least in this marriage, he should be dishonourd.To blaze your marriage, for a month, a weekee,Ahdi in his wisedome, hasts our marriage,Least in this marriage he should be dishonourd.To rid her from this second Marriage,Least in this marriage he should be dishonourd.
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet <t< td=""><td>AAA<</td><td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.Amarriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage.gloss of your marriage as to show a hild his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a begga? I's not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage.Marriage joesSo dift is most pompous marriage.A bout his marriage, nor my own disgrace(nameriage-ritwixt my crown and me.A bout his marriage, nor my own disgrace(nameriage, send me vord tomorrow,By holy marriage. When, and where, and howWhith formarriage noew. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage never was before.Delay by marriage noew. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage noew. Younger than you,Thy purpo</td><td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue.will obtained, name the day of marriage.marriage?1 will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.glosse of your marriage, ast o shew a childe his nerriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.so opposite to Marriage, that she shun'd Must be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!Num ary age pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, send me word to morrow.Well thinke of marriage, send me word to morrow.By holy marriage: when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Well thinke of marriage ispent and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?Wilt the sole of marriage of a morth, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Well thinke of marriage nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, reconcile your Friends, marriage.Delay this marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marri</td></t<>	AAA<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.Amarriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage.gloss of your marriage as to show a hild his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!not marriage honourable in a begga? I's not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriageMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage!MarriageSo opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loathe her. O, curse of marriage.Marriage joesSo dift is most pompous marriage.A bout his marriage, nor my own disgrace(nameriage-ritwixt my crown and me.A bout his marriage, nor my own disgrace(nameriage, send me vord tomorrow,By holy marriage. When, and where, and howWhith formarriage noew. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage never was before.Delay by marriage noew. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage noew. Younger than you,Thy purpo	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought vpon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue.will obtained, name the day of marriage.marriage?1 will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.glosse of your marriage, ast o shew a childe his nerriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.so opposite to Marriage, that she shun'd Must be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!Num ary age pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, send me word to morrow.Well thinke of marriage, send me word to morrow.By holy marriage: when and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Well thinke of marriage ispent and where, and how, What sales he of our marriage?Wilt the sole of marriage of a morth, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Well thinke of marriage nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, reconcile your Friends, marriage.Delay this marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marri
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet </td <td>III<</td> <td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow.Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveon me, because I have railed so long against marriage.l do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!noncurable without marriage?form of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.for his most pompous marriage.for his most pompous marriage.for homorrow,By Juno, that is queen of marriage.With the sweet silent hours of marriage.marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage.Must his marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage he should be contrinow,By holy marriage. When, and where, and howThy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By holy marriage he should be clishon oured!Thy purpose marriage he should be dishonoured!Thy purpose marriage he sh</td> <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God gue.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God gue.narriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage:l dee but stay till your marriage be consummate, giosse of your marriage, ast to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would hauehonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twist my Crowne, and me, marriage.Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, for a month, a weeke, A dui his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Least in this marriage for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Least in this marriage he should be dishonour'd,I hari wage neuernial rites of marriage?To ila her from this second Marriage, To ird her from thi</td>	III<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured in your marriage.Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow.Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?marriage, and God giveon me, because I have railed so long against marriage.l do but stay till your marriage be consummate, gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, and labour ill bestowed!noncurable without marriage?form of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage, and you shall recount their particularform of marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.for his most pompous marriage.for his most pompous marriage.for homorrow,By Juno, that is queen of marriage.With the sweet silent hours of marriage.marriage joys;With the sweet silent hours of marriage.Must his marriage, nor my own disgrace,A twofold marriage he should be contrinow,By holy marriage. When, and where, and howThy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By holy marriage he should be clishon oured!Thy purpose marriage he should be dishonoured!Thy purpose marriage he sh	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God gue.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God gue.narriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage:l dee but stay till your marriage be consummate, giosse of your marriage, ast to shew a childe his new coatmarriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? I thinke you would hauehonourable without marriage?In the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twist my Crowne, and me, marriage.Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, for a month, a weeke, A dui his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Least in this marriage for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Least in this marriage he should be dishonour'd,I hari wage neuernial rites of marriage?To ila her from this second Marriage, To ird her from thi
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and Juliet <td></td> <td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.amariage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation,ward of her purity, her reputationmarriage.Which forced marriage would havebrought upon her.give you intelligence of an intendedmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage.on me, because 1 have railed so longgloss of your marriage as to show almarriage - surely suit ill spent, andabouritie without marriage?think you would haveform of marriage, and you shallconsummate,So oposite to marriage and you shallform of marriage, nor may ownadispare.form of marriage, nor may ownfast.So oposite to marriage, nor may ownfast.fund his wisdom hastes ourmarriage daysby luno, that is queen of marriage?thy purpose marriage, send meweith the sweet silent hours ofmarriage daysfast in thik of marriage now. YoungerThy purpose marriage, send mewarriage daysweith is marriage now. Youngerhan howWhat says he of our marriage?<t< td=""><td>Our feast shall be much honored in youra marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, hermarriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.glue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.doe but stay till your marriage be consummate.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coat.marriage surely sute III spent, and labour III bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twikt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage</td></t<></td>		he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.amariage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation,ward of her purity, her reputationmarriage.Which forced marriage would havebrought upon her.give you intelligence of an intendedmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage.on me, because 1 have railed so longgloss of your marriage as to show almarriage - surely suit ill spent, andabouritie without marriage?think you would haveform of marriage, and you shallconsummate,So oposite to marriage and you shallform of marriage, nor may ownadispare.form of marriage, nor may ownfast.So oposite to marriage, nor may ownfast.fund his wisdom hastes ourmarriage daysby luno, that is queen of marriage?thy purpose marriage, send meweith the sweet silent hours ofmarriage daysfast in thik of marriage now. YoungerThy purpose marriage, send mewarriage daysweith is marriage now. Youngerhan howWhat says he of our marriage? <t< td=""><td>Our feast shall be much honored in youra marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, hermarriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.glue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.doe but stay till your marriage be consummate.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coat.marriage surely sute III spent, and labour III bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twikt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage</td></t<>	Our feast shall be much honored in youra marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, hermarriage-vow,Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.glue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage.doe but stay till your marriage be consummate.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coat.marriage surely sute III spent, and labour III bestowed.not marriage honourable in a beggar? is not your Lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:Euen right for marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twikt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietPhe Taming of the ShrewThe Taming of the ShrewThe Taming of the ShrewThe TempestThe TempestThe	III<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.Abraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation,werd marriage.Which forced marriage would havebrought upon her.give you intelligence of an intendedmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage.werney with mine. How canst thoucross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day ofgaginst marriage.on me, because I have railed so longgals of your marriage ast o show almarriage - surely suit ill spent, andlabour ill bestowed!not marriage nonvorable in abeggar? Is not your loard?form of marriage, and you shallform of marriage, and you shallform of marriage, and you shallforth go the particularforth marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.With the swet silent hours ofmarriage instraige, nor my owndisgrace,About his marriage, nor my owndisgrace,About his marriage, nor my owndisgrace,About his marriage, nor my owndisgrace,Will, think of marriage, neconcileWord tomrriage.With a says he of our marriage?With a says he of our marriage?Delay this marriage he should bedishonoured!I marriageWith a says he of our marriage?Delay th	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anne concerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.Ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage.Will obtained, name the day of marriage.Will obtained, name the day of marriage.marriage?I vill presentile goe learne their day of marriage?nome, because I haue rail'd so long against marriage: surely sure ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.posse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coatmarriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularI the state of honourable marriage.So oposite to Marriage. that she shun'dMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, treo and harriage ioyes:Well thinke of marriage, when and where, and how,What sales he of our marriage?Thy purpose marriage, send me word to morrow,By holy marriage, for a month, a weeke;And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.Least in this marriage he should be clishonourd).I marriad ther; and their stolne marriage dayTo iblaze your marriage, and word
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietThe Taming of the ShrewThe Taming of the	III<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.Arbaham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation,ward of her purity, her reputation,wardinge, and so marriage.Which forced marriage would havebrought upon her.give you intelligence of an intendedmarriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thoucross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day ofagainst marriage.i do but stay till your marriage beconsummate,gloss of your marriage as to show alchild his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, andbobur sill bestowed!Not marriage honourable in abeggar? Is not your loadform of marriage, and you shallrecount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage that sheshunsedSo opposite to marriage.Yuh on that is queen of marriage.Yuh this marriage. nor my ownGisgrace,Atwofold marriage, nor my ownGisgrace,Yuh up urpose marriage, send meWord tomorrow,Yuh purpose marriage, send meYuh this wisdom hastes ourmarriageYuh this wisdom hastes ourmarriageYuh this wisdom hastes ourmarriageYuh this wisdom hastes ourMarriageYuh this wisdom hastes ourMarriage <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage would have brought yoon her.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glueuell yout intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God gluemarriagemarriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.marriage on mee, because I have raild so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, ast o shew a childe his new coal.marriage surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.pot marriage, and you shal recount their particularI the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shundMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgrace:A two-fold Marriage; twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage:With the saveet silent houres of Marriage layes:Well thinke of marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage,Delay this marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedom, hasts our marriage,Diates your marriage, nor why oble formariage.To idher from this second MarriageTo idher from this second Marriage.</td>	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage would have brought yoon her.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glueuell yout intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God gluemarriagemarriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.marriage on mee, because I have raild so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, ast o shew a childe his new coal.marriage surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.pot marriage, and you shal recount their particularI the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shundMust be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage sight : this Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgrace:A two-fold Marriage; twixt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage:With the saveet silent houres of Marriage layes:Well thinke of marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedome, hasts our marriage,Delay this marriage, for a month, a weeke, And in his wisedom, hasts our marriage,Diates your marriage, nor why oble formariage.To idher from this second MarriageTo idher from this second Marriage.
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietPheraming of the ShrewThe Taming of the<		he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.a marriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcenning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.marriage honour marriage.Which forced marriage would havebrought upon her.give you intelligence of an intendedmarriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thoucross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day ofmarriage.on me, because I have railed so longgainst marriage.l do but stay till your marriage beconsummate.gloss of your marriage ast o show alhonourable without marriage?think you would haveform of marriage. Honourable in abeggar? Is not your lord?So opposite to marriage that sheeSoupposite to marriage.Must be to loathe her. O, curse ofmarriageIn marriage pleasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.Co this marriage, nor my owndisparriage.Motold marriage.Must be to loathe her. O, curse ofmarriagePor yurpose marriage.Mut her sweet silent hours ofmarriage.Mut hat sughter meanly have I matcheddIn marriage.Muth the formarriage new. YoungerThy purpose marriage.Muth the sweet silent hours ofmarriageMuth the syste of a month, aWith the syste of a month, aWith thes weet silent hours of	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage would have brought yon hor.Which forced marriage would have brought giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and Godglueeuenly with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?I will presentile goe learne their day of marriage.no mee, because I haue raild so long against marriage.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his new coat.marriage isurely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.not marriage, and you shal recount their particularlon the state of honourable marriage.so opposite to Marriage, that she shundMust be to leath her. Oh Curse of MarriageIIn the state of honourable marriage.About his marriage, inary wore disgraceA two-fold Marriage: 'twikt my Crowne, and me, His daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage loyeus:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.What sales he of our marriage, recondle your Friends, Delay this marriage, ner anoth, a weeke, An in his wisedome, hasts our marriage.I has alshe of our marriage?What sales he of our marriage?With the sweet silent houres of MarriageWith the sweet silent houres of marriage.I blaze your marriage, recondle your Friends, Delay this marriage, hor a month, a weeke, An in his wisedome, hasts our marriage. <td< td=""></td<>
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNotingMuch Ado AboutNotingMuch Ado AboutNoting	Imageneric <td>he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.a marriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-yow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.marriage.will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.gainst marriage;I dobut stay till your marriage bac consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage bonourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall croour their particularI the state of honourable marriage.No urable without marriage?Marriage leasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.At woof do marriage, nor my own disgrace,At word of marriage, nor my own disgrace,At word of marriage, nor my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage ioys;Well, think of marriage, reconcile poynt friends.Delay this marriage, need weileMarriage joys;Well, think of marriage, need weileMan ou,Thy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By hoty marriage, need out marriage ioys;Well, think of marriage need weileMarriage ioys;<</td> <td>Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage vow, her eputation, her marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glue.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glue.will obtained, name the day of marriage.marriage?I will presentile goe learne their day of marriage?marriage of your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage, as to shew a childe his marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.non-mable without marriage?nonurable without marriage?Nonurable without marriage?honourable marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularNoult ba to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:Wilt the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, its his Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twist my Crowne, and mer marriage.Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage loyes:Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage.Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage.Delay this marriage, neornel word lo marriage.Marriage hoor unarriage?With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.<td< td=""></td<></td>	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.a marriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage-yow,Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intended marriage.marriage.will obtained; name the day of marriage, and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thou cross this marriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage.gainst marriage;I dobut stay till your marriage bac consummate,gloss of your marriage as to show a child his new coatmarriage bonourable in a beggar? Is not your lordhonourable without marriage? I think you would haveform of marriage, and you shall croour their particularI the state of honourable marriage.No urable without marriage?Marriage leasures playfellow;By Juno, that is queen of marriage.At woof do marriage, nor my own disgrace,At word of marriage, nor my own disgrace,At word of marriage, nor my own disgrace,With the sweet silent hours of marriage ioys;Well, think of marriage, reconcile poynt friends.Delay this marriage, need weileMarriage joys;Well, think of marriage, need weileMan ou,Thy purpose marriage, send me word tomorrow,By hoty marriage, need out marriage ioys;Well, think of marriage need weileMarriage ioys;<	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage vow, her eputation, her marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glue.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glue.will obtained, name the day of marriage.marriage?I will presentile goe learne their day of marriage?marriage of your marriage be consummate,gloss of your marriage, as to shew a childe his marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.non-mable without marriage?nonurable without marriage?Nonurable without marriage?honourable marriage, and you shal recount their particularforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularNoult ba to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:Wilt the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, its his Maidto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twist my Crowne, and mer marriage.Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage loyes:Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage.Wilt the sweet silent houres of Marriage.Delay this marriage, neornel word lo marriage.Marriage hoor unarriage?With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage.With the sweet silent houres of Marriage. <td< td=""></td<>
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNuch Ado About	III<	he goes.Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.Araham and Mistress AnneConcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation,her marriage-wow,Which forced marriage would havepigwe you intelligence of an intendedmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage and God giveevenly with mine. How canst thoucross this marriage?marriage.on me, because I have railed so longgainst marriage?lobu stay till your marriage beconsumate,gloss of your marriage as to show achild his new coatmarriage - surely suit ill spent, andabour ill bestowed!nonourable without marriage?lonourable without marriage?so opposite to marriage and you shallrecount their particular?In the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to marriage day. I'llAbout his marriage, and you shallrecount their particular?In the state of honourable marriage.Supposite to marriage has the shouldMust be to loathe her. O, curse offrast.About his marriage. Nor woy wondisgrace.A twofold marriage.A twofold marriage - twixt my crowndisgrace.A twofold marriage has hould beWith ta says he of our marriage?With this marriage has hould berhonoured dayMarriage dayWith ta says he of our marriage?<	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage?will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage?I will presentile goe learne their day of marriage?I will presentile goe learne their day of marriage?I will presentile goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because I haue raild's olong against marriage?I doe but stay ill your marriage be consumate, glose of your marriage, as to shew a childe his marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.Nonurable without marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage, that she shun'd Must be to loath her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euen right for marriage, inconcile your Friends, Parriage.With the swet silent houres of Marriage ioyes:Will thinke of marriage, ner my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage, inconcile your Friends, Parriage.Diates your marriage, reconcile your Friends, Parriage.Diates your marriage, reconcile your Friends, Parriage.Diates your marriage, ner month, a weeke.And in his wisedome, hasts sur marriage.Loath in this marriage how of un marri
The Merchant of VeniceThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorThe Merry Wives ofWindsorMuch Ado AboutNothingMuch Ado AboutNothingOthelloOthelloOthelloOthelloPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesPericlesRomeo and JulietRomeo and JulietThe Taming of the ShrewThe Taming of the ShrewThe Taming of the ShrewThe Taming of the ShrewThe TempestThe TempestThe TempestThe Two NobleKinsmenThe T	AAA<	he goes,Our feast shall be much honoured inyour marriage.a marriage between MasterAbraham and Mistress Anneconcerning your marriage.master in the way of marriage.Which forced marriage would have brought upon her.give you intelligence of an intendedmarriage.will obtained; name the day ofmarriage?I will presently go learn their day of marriage?on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;on me, because I have railed so long against marriage;form of marriage and you shall recount their particularnot marriage honourable in a beggar? Is not your loardhonourable without marriage?form of marriage, and you shall recount their particularIn the sate of honourable marriage feast.So opposite to marriage that she shunnedMust be to loar marriage.Must be to loar marriage.Must be to loar marriage.form of marriage. nor my own disgrace.of this marriage now. Younger thank youHis daughter meanly have I matched i marriage loys:Well, think of marriage new. Younger than you,Thy purpose marriage, send me week.What says he of our marriage?With tassys he of our marriage?Jup urpose marriage he should be dishonouredMarriage dayTo para at heir and friet stolen marriage dayThy purpose marriage he should	Our feast shall be much honored in your marriage.a marriage betweene Master Abraham, and Mistris Anneconcerning your marriage.Master in the way of Marriage.ward of her purity, her reputation, her marriage yow.marriage vow.Which forced marriage would haue brought yon her.giue you intelligence of an intended marriage.will obtained, name the day of marriage, and God glueeurely with mine, how canst thou crosse this marriage?marriage?I will presentlie goe learne their day of marriage.on mee, because 1 haue raild so long against marriage?I doe but stay ull your marriage be consummate.glosse of your marriage, as to shew a childe his marriage?marriage: surely sute ill spent, and labour ill bestowed.honourable without marriage? 1 thinke you would haueforme of marriage, and you shal recount their particularIn the state of honourable marriage.So opposite to Marriage (that she shund)Must be to loach her. Oh Curse of Marriage!In maryage pleasures, playfellow:By luno (that is Queene of mariage)Of this most pompous maryage Feast:Euer right for marriage sight: this Maididto grace thy marriage, nor my owne disgraceA two-fold Marriage; twist my Crowne, and how,With the sweet silent houres of Marriage loyes:With the sweet silent houres of Marriage,I this daughter meanly haue I matcht in marriage.Marriage, for a month, a weeke,A two-fold Marriage, for a month, a weeke,A thi his wisedome, hasts o

✓ Poems 2 result(s).

✓ Glossary 29 result(s).

✓ Thesaurus 46 result(s).

✓ Themes and Topics 5 result(s).

vWords Families 17 result(s).

✓ Snippets 1 result(s).